

“IS CREATIVITY A RELIGIOUS CONCEPT?”

■ A FREE PUBLIC LECTURE BY ■

DOUGLAS HICKS, PH.D.
UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND

Thursday, March 3, 7:30 p.m.

Jesse Wrench Auditorium
(Memorial Union South, MU Campus)

Creativity is a popular concept in business and other professional contexts, but the term means different things to different people. This lecture will examine the ways in which views of creativity draw upon accounts of creation and human nature in various religious traditions.

DR. DOUGLAS HICKS is Associate Professor of Leadership Studies and Religion at the University of Richmond's Jepson School of Leadership Studies and director of the Bonner Center for Civic Engagement. An ordained minister in the Presbyterian Church (USA), he is author of two books, Inequality and Christian Ethics and Religion and the Workplace. He also is an editor of the three-volume reference work The International Library of Leadership.
